

Contents

	Page
Preface	9
Introduction: Szymanowski's Life and Thought	13
Part One: On Critics and Criticism	71
On Contemporary Musical Opinion in Poland	73
'My Splendid Isolation'	95
'I will leave my rocky entrenchment. . . .'	102
Part Two: On Folk-music and Nationalism	111
Antena chez Karol Szymanowski	113
On Highland Music	115
The Ethnic Question in relation to Contemporary Music	126
A Footnote to 'Stabat Mater'	136
Part Three: On Nineteenth-century Music	143
Romanticism in the Present Era	145
On Romanticism in Music	154
Fryderyk Chopin	177
Part Four: On Twentieth-century Music	197
Karol Szymanowski on Contemporary Music	199
The Highways and Byways of Contemporary Music	207
On the Work of Wagner, Strauss and Schoenberg	211
Igor Stravinsky	223
On the Musical Life of Paris	228
Maurice Ravel on the Occasion of his Fiftieth Birthday	237
Paul Dukas 'Tel qu'en lui-même enfin . . .'	241
The Future of Culture	243

	Page
Part Five: On Education	249
A New Spirit in the Warsaw Conservatory	251
The Generation War between Old and Young Musicians and the Conflict between their Creative Outlooks	253
The Vicissitudes of the Warsaw Conservatory	259
The Opening of the State Academy of Music in Warsaw	268
The Dispute over the Academy	276
The Educational Role of Musical Culture in Society	281
Part Six: On the Composer's Life	319
Introduction to my Memoirs	321
Karol Szymanowski	328
In Memory of Paweł Kochański	353
Appendix: Catalogue of Karol Szymanowski's Writings	359
Bibliography	371
Index	375